Peace Meeting.
A police had been sent in, and the whole lodge meeting. At the hearing, however, there appeared to be a strange reluctance about testifying. The judge said that although the body would admit that there had been a meeting, nobody would tell what started it. So it was that his honor planned out some motions—the honorable worthy later custodian it was—down to facts.

"You say somebody started this fight by hitting somebody over the head with a stone. Now, who hit whom with what on what occasion?" was the question that the peace peace meeting of the Brothery were in the midst of.

France's Young Hero

Defying German Bullets, Calmly Carries Out Orders of His Officer

With colors flying and the band playing the "Marseillaise," the 17th regiment of French infantry marched to the front. The youngest soldier in the ranks, Leon Lemaire, who, although only a boy, was presented with the distinction of being the first man to fall in the French army since the outbreak of the war.

Through it all, young Lemaire advanced coolly and without faltering, and finally he reached the trench where the carnage was being done. The message was—remarkably true—about a boy's heart.

United States Would Object

The American people would undoubtedly and strenuously resent a European invasion of Canada, wholly regardless of any provocation that there might be in the European war.

Why? Because the Americans in such a contingency might be obliged, but taken out of friendship for England or cut of civility to England's cause.

From Correspondent at Wavy Plain

Mr. Fred Wilson of this district is going into the poultry business on a large scale. Mr. Wilson says all he needs now to make a success of his undertaking, is one of the fair sex, to be his assistant.

Mr. Earl Effe, who recently volunteered for active service, has been accepted on the Second Contingent.

Mr. Robert Falls is gaining considerable notoriety as a vocalist in this neighbourhood. One of his favourite songs is "Oh! it's nice to get up in the morning." We are unable to say whether Mr. Falls practices what he sings.

Mr. R. Chalmers was a visitor at Mr. Appleby's place on Friday evening.

Mrs. Yale, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is now well enough to be up.

We have heard of quite a number of our neighbours losing horses recently, caused by eating musty straw. A small amount of flax seed and plenty of salt will prevent this.

A party given by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cornell in honour of Miss Grace Tuttle on Friday last, was pronounced a great success by all who attended. Dancing formed the chief amusement, while songs by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Corrier and others were much appreciated.

In about another forty days Spring will be here again, and no doubt she will be welcomed by all.

Miss Grace Tuttle, our former school teacher, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cornell. Messrs. Fairly and May are hauling hay from Cox Bros. of their farms, thirty-five miles south of here.

NO. 1

John Wanamaker, one of the richest and most successful merchants in America, said:

"I do my heaviest advertising in dull times. Then is when the people look most keenly for bargains, are anxious to know just how much things cost, and where they can save money. I advertise particular things, give prices and quantities, and take as much pains with my announcements as I do with my stock."

"Advertising is like hotel keeping. One big dinner will not make or keep up the reputation of the house. Steady good cooking does it. In advertising it is the same. I never permit interest in my announcements to lag, and I never miss an issue of my chosen publication."

"Advertising has made my store the largest in the country, and anybody can do the same."

While returning from Oyen on Monday of last week, the writer was startled by a horseman, rushing past him as though he was pursued by a wolf, who he was sure was a German Spy, escaping the vigilance of the village constable. He was much perturbed, but his anxieties were put at rest, for this agitated man "John Gilpin," who turned out to be the editor of the News, was really, in fact, a snow drift, which, by fitting in by his experience, "J. G." decided to lend his horse back, claiming that he thought it was too cold for his legs. The agitated man, "To our correspondent," I don't think it is nice of you to give me away like this. Ed.)

account himself, and did not require assistance from the council. The secretary was instructed to ascertain from the department what the council did to towards securing the Ullman account for the Hospital.

Moved by Denton and carried that the remuneration of councillors be $3.00, and Reeve $4.00 per day, and 10¢ per mile for each mile travelled, the same to last year. It was also decided to pay the councillors quarterly.

On the motion of Denton, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. R. G. Marshall for having given the use of the hall to the council without charge.

On motion of McGowan, the council adjourned until the last Saturday in February at 10 a.m. W. Lippkott, Secretary.
